About Us

Welcome from the Breckenridge & Dillon CEO

Welcome to Colorado Mountain College (Breckenridge/Dillon), a truly unique institution of higher education nestled in the heart of scenic Summit County, Colorado. If you are one of our students or patrons you have chosen to become a member of a community of excellence and we humbly welcome you.

Here you will find a balanced blend of modern and traditional methods of instruction. We are steadfastly focused on addressing the educational needs of our students. That means one-on-one attention from our faculty, smaller classes and convenient locations. In either case, your education here will transcend the time spent in class. Our faculty has a well-deserved reputation for excellence as evidenced by our accreditations from a number of professional associations.

Additionally, we understand our responsibility to manage our resources very carefully. Unlike many other colleges and universities in the state, our tuition cost continues to be low. When you combine the low cost of our tuition with the exceptional quality of our programs and services, you will find that we provide the greatest possible educational value in Colorado. We know that both your time and financial resources are precious, which is why we do everything we can to be flexible and fiscally responsible.

Ultimately, the measure of any college is its students and their accomplishments. Our goal is to get each student from where they are to where they want to be. This fuels our vested interest in student success. It is my hope that you will take full advantage of all that we have to offer here at Colorado Mountain College.

We look forward to seeing what you accomplish. We know that your achievements will be another reason we can continue to say that we are First Choice in Learning, First choice in Partnerships and First Choice in Leadership as we continue serving you in ever expanding ways.

Sincerely,

Dave Askeland

Campus CEO

About Us

Snow and CMC Alert

Chances are you already know that Summit County receives a lot of snow. The average yearly snowfall in Breckenridge is 164 inches and the average yearly snowfall in Dillon is 126 inches. Summit County ski resorts can average 300 inches of snow. It is another fact that it can snow anytime of the year, even in July.

Snow is a way of life in the high country and one soon realizes that five inches of snow is nothing and often disappointing. While in some parts of the United States 5 inches would get you a snow day, the same is not true in Summit County. Classes are rarely canceled, but in the unlikely event that they are, there is CMC Alert.

CMC Alert is the emergency notification and warning system for students and staff. In the event of an emergency or unexpected campus closure, the CMC ALERT system will send a text and voice message to all students who are affected. CMC ALERT will supplement the college's current emergency communication system which includes intercom, e-mail, web site announcements, Facebook, and the local radio station, Krystal 93. More information about the alert system can be found on the Colorado Mountain College webpage.

Housing

Student housing is not available at the Summit Campus. Students will need to make housing arrangements on their own. The best place to find housing is in the local newspaper, the Summit Daily News, which can be accessed online at www.summitdaily.com. There is also a wide variety of property management companies that offer long-term rentals. Additionally, students can check with the Summit Combined Housing Authority at www.summithousing.us for information on apartment complexes in Summit County. Several ski resorts in the county also offer housing for their employees, so this is another avenue to check out if you plan on working at one of the local ski resorts.

The Post Office Challenge

In Summit County the majority of residents do not have home mail delivery. This is a fact of life in the mountains that can cause major headaches when it comes to every aspect of mail and package delivery. There are four Post Office locations in Summit County. When you venture to the Post Office to get your very own PO Box you will need to bring a lease or another bill with your name and physical address to prove you live there, and two forms of identification; one must be a photo ID. Also, there are certain areas where you can receive a free PO Box, so it never hurts to ask if you are one of the lucky ones and whether they have any free boxes available.

Of course having a PO Box can cause a lot of headaches when it comes to package delivery. Be sure to inquire about how a package is being sent. FedEx and UPS can only deliver to physical addresses. The key is to be as clear as possible with credit card companies, retailers, and of course, your relatives.
